We are also very excited about the Red Carpet event where we will honor the men and women in radio on April 24th, 2014." The White and Black affair will help to culminate Radio Week bringing together special guests, celebrities, and state and city officials all in honor of men and women in radio. During the event seven distinct radio personalities among others, will be recognized with special awards and mentions. Radio Week is an official celebration of the entire staff of radio from the producers, station managers, disc jockeys, radio hosts, traffic reporters, blog talk radio, Internet radio and everyone behind the scenes. The aforementioned guests and speakers from Radio Week's Parade will also be in attendance. The Red Carpet starts at 6:00pm. The venue for the honorary event is Camellia Hall at 3413 N. Main Street, College Park, GA. For ticket information visit <https://radioinblackandwhite.eventbrite.com>.
